Coming of Age in an Evolving Universe

Title / Week	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13
Our Cosmic Origins
The History of Earth
The Life Era
The Future of Space Exploration
Cosmic Evolution
Life as a Manifestation of the Second Law of Thermodynamics
Figments of Reality
Life in the Universe

Our Kind - Evolving

Title / Week	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15	16	17	18	19	20	21	22	23	24	25	26	27	28	29	30	31	32	33	34	35	36	37
Shadows of Forgotten Ancestors
Waste is Good
The Third Chimpanzee
The Extraordinary Story of Human Origins
Demonic Males
The Moral Animal
Good Natured
Grooming, Gossip, and the Evolution of Language
The Symbolic Species
The Prehistory of the Mind
The Anthropology of Time
The Domestication of the Human Species
The Evolution of Human Societies
How to Get Rich
Guns, Germs, and Steel
The Atlas of Early Man
The Cradle of Cash
The Axemaker's Gift
The Machiavellian side to primates
The Prince
Management and Machiavelli
Machiavellian Realism and U.S. Foreign Policy
The Spirit in the Gene
A History of the Global Brain
The Origins of Virtue
The Chimpanzees Who Would Be Ants

Energy, Organization, Planetization

Title / Week	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15	16	17	18	19	20	21	22	23	24	25	26	27	28	29	30	31	32	33	34	35	36	37	38	39	40	41	42	43
Energies
The Macroscope
Characteristics of Nested Living Systems
Energy, Society, and Morals
eMergy Evaluation
The Eighth Day
Sociocultural Self-Organization and the Primacy of the Infrastructure
Evolving self-reference: matter, symbols, and semantic closure
Energy Hierarchy and Organization
The World's Most Polymorphic Species
Complexity, Problem Solving, and Sustainable Societies
The Dynamic Society
Easter's End
A Green History of the World
Reflections in Bullough's Pond
Whole Earth Review
Energy and Human Evolution
The Post-Petroleum Paradigm -- and Population
Geodestinies
The Peak of World Oil Production and the Road to the Olduvai Gorge
Development and Evolution
Sustainable Engineering
Natural Capitalism
Climaxing Oil
The Ephemeral Civilization
Limits To Competition
The Mind of the CEO
No Logo
Civil Society and the Future of the Nation-State: Two views
Jihad vs. McWorld
Nonzero
The Information Age																																											